HERRIN, Ill., April 14—"Bloody Herrin" awoke today to the aftermath of a debauch of death to which it backslid yesterday, after travelling for more than a year the path of brotherhood that led from the sawdust trail.

Six bodies lay in the morgue a few blocks from the tabernacle, where last May and June a thousand residents of this mining town forgot their feud and laid down their guns to pray for civil peace.

Three of the bodies of those of the faction known as anti-Klan, while the other three were those reputed Ku Klux Klansmen. In the eleven months that have elapsed since Herrin "Got religion" under the evangelistic ministry of Howard A. Williams, of Mississippi, the Klan has not functioned actively and classification of factions is principally a matter of memory, but memories grew vivid yesterday in the new outbreak of the passion which Herrin had thought conquered.

Khaki clad militiamen patrolled the streets today for the eighth time in four years. Armed troops guarded the garage of John Smith, a lay-leader in the revival of last spring.

It was here that the trouble started yesterday when foes of Smith fired on him after he had been reproached for challenging voters in the primary balloting.

More guardsmen paced in front of the fourth ward polling place at the Masonic hall, to which the battle shifted yesterday after Smith and two comrades had barricaded themselves in Smith's garage.

Withdrawing from the vicinity of the garage raiders circled to the hall, where three deputy constables fell dead as they opened fire and two of the raiders were killed. A third member of the attacking party died of wounds. The brief, but sanguinary battle, ended as suddenly as it began and the toll of dead was still even.

At the end of the revival campaign seven deaths were reckoned on each side. Today each faction counts ten dead in the last chapter of the war whose lauded ending proved to be only an armistice.

John Ford, former police chief, and a Klan leader, told his story of the battle to the state's attorney today. No formal investigation had gotten underway. No arrests have been made and the coroner has set no date for an inquest.

First Christian
Announces Revival

Rev. Noble R. Edwards, pastor of the First Christian church, today announced the opening evangelistic services beginning the first Sunday in May. Rev. E. N. Anthony, Hartselle pastor, will conduct the services, with G. E. McCulloch conducting the musical features of the series. Rev. Edwards explained that Sunday evening meetings during the campaign will be held at the Princess theater. It is probable that a week of prayer services among members of the church will precede the opening of the campaign.

SEVERAL CREWS AT WORK NOW ON ROADConstruction Is Making
Good Progress Now
Toward Courtland

Several crews are at work now on the Decatur-Tusculum Muscle Shoals highway, observers stated today, and good progress is being made on the construction program.

The state highway department undertook several weeks ago, to improve this thoroughfare. Some sections of the permanent highway will be built at this time and the rest repaired and placed in good condition.

The highway department, realizing the importance of this thoroughfare in traffic through the Shoals district, is bending every effort to make it not only passable, but comfortably passable.

Work now is being done on the road between Courtland and Town Creek and between Courtland and Wheeler.

Industrial Bank
Opens On First

Albany-Decatur's new Industrial bank, organized here several weeks ago and with R. E. Chandler elected as president, expects to open its doors to the public by May 1, it was stated today. Announcement has not been made to the public of the management of the bank, several well known and responsible local men having been considered for the place.

SEE this earth while you are still here. You may not come back. It is a beautiful globe, 25,000 miles round, marvelously balanced, at even temperature, dragged by the sun through the infinite ether. Astronomy says the earth is "only a grain of sand attached to a minor star among the billions of flying suns." Nevertheless it is, perhaps, the only planet you will ever know. See it while you may.

Reveals

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14—The department of agriculture's summary of conditions in Southern states for the week ended yesterday says that conditions were fairly favorable for cotton in the southeastern portion of the belt, where farm work made some advance, although planting mostly was retarded.

Good progress was made in seeding in Southern Alabama and this work was becoming general in central and southern Georgia and progressing in South Carolina.

The crop made very good progress in extreme southern Texas but poor elsewhere in that state, and very little yet has been planted in Oklahoma. Citrus fruits are doing well in Florida, although truck crops were damaged by heavy rains. Potatoes are coming up so far north as Virginia.

Condition in Alabama: Farm work retarded. Cotton planting good progress in most sections. Corn planting quite general. Potatoes coming up, transplanting sweets not begun, peaches doing well.

Eleven States
In Tournament

(Associated Press)

SELMA, Ala., April 14—Entries are being received for the Southern Valley Ball tournament, representing eleven states, which will be held here on April 16-17.

P. M. Grist, head of the physical department of the local Y. M. C. A. and chairman of the tournament committee is planning on entertaining approximately 15 outfits during the tournament.

Representatives from all the states in the league are expected, including the championship Chattanooga team. The local team was runner-up.

(Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 14.—Forced from his car, tied to a tree and robbed by two roughly dressed men, who fled with his girl companion and car, was the story recited to Ensey police early today by A. Saul, 22, of Fairfield.

Saul met the girl, who he said was 19 or 20 years old, and whose name he did not know, on the corner of Fifth avenue and Twentieth street, Birmingham, early last night, he told police. After riding about for a time they drove on the Republic road, near the T. C. I. mines number seven.

On the highway they were held up and the couple ordered out. They were escorted some distance off the road and Saul tied to a tree. He was robbed of a diamond ring valued at $200, a watch valued at $75, six tickets to the opening baseball game and $6.00 in cash.

The robbers left him, taking the girl with the statement that they would return in an hour.

Working his way free a short time later, he ran to the road. His car was gone, and he walked to T. C. I. mine number two, where he reported the robbery to Ensey police.

Investigating officers were furnished descriptions of the two men, the girl and the car. Saul expressed the belief he had been "framed." The men were unarmed, he said.

Mail Sacks Taken

CHICAGO, April 14.—Several sacks of registered mail, believed to contain money, were taken from a mail truck as it was being loaded in the rear of the Indiana Harbor, Indiana, postoffice early today.

Two armed men seized the sacks and drove rapidly toward Chicago.

According to Indiana Harbor police the mail sacks were consigned to several steel companies. The robbers intimidated the truck driver, forcing him to help in transferring the bags.

Paymaster Robbed

MIAMI, Fla., April 14.—Three unmasked bandits held up and robbed a paymaster and guard of the Seybold Bakery company, in front of the company's plant here today, escaping with $2,500 in cash and $1,500 in checks.

Claus Danielson, paymaster, and Earnest Young, guard, of the Seybold company were seated in their automobile in front of the plant, preparing to make a deposit in a downtown bank, when the armed robbers surrounded the machine and, at the point of pistols, seized the money satchel.

The bandits rushed to their automobile nearby, drove away and escaped in the stream of cars passing the company's building.

No One Is Hurt
In Collision

No one was injured as the result of a collision at the corner of 4th avenue and Prospect Drive, Albany, at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon when a wagon belonging to Chambers Bros., grocers is said to have been badly damaged. The driver of the automobile with which the wagon collided, was said to have resided at Falkville. Ross Harney, negro driver of the wagon, was declared to have received

FINAL WITNESS TO TESTIFY FOR WETSGovernment Sales Of Non-Intoxicating

STILL EXHIBITEDAndrews Laments The Home Manufacture
Of Beverages

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Frankly conceding that home manufacture of intoxicants is "seriously injurious" to the nation's moral fiber, assistant Secretary Andrews in charge of prohibition enforcement, told the senate prohibition committee today that in his opinion, enforcement would be easier if government manufacture and sale of non-intoxicating liquors was legalized.

Testifying as the last witness to be called by the wets and using, as an exhibit, a large copper still, complete and ready for operation, the prohibition chief said it was likely "that small stills operated in homes are producing millions of gallons of liquor."

He said restricted government sale of non-intoxicating beverages for use in the home would help remedy this situation, but he added that it would be disastrous to permit a return of the saloons.

When asked what he would consider "non-intoxicating drinks," and whether 12 per cent wine was intoxicating in fact, he declined to express an opinion.

The crowded committee room was treated to many laughs as Senator Reed, democrat of Missouri, the only wet on the committee, took General Andrews through an intricate discussion of stills and distilling.

In the course of it the Senator took New England as an example and drew from the witness an estimate that government agent gets one in ten of the stills that operate in that section.

Freight Service
Given To Speed

Local shippers are expressing much commendation for local railroads over the installation of rapid freight service schedules to and from this point.

An instance was given here this week when The Daily placed an order with a Nashville concern, asking prompt shipment. In 24 hours the shipment was laid down in The Daily office.

Annual Meeting
Of Westminster

The annual meeting of the congregation of Westminster Presbyterian church will be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight when the annual reports of officers will be made and other important business transacted. The attendance of every member was urged by officials of the church.

Talk Of Industry
Now Being Heard

The publication in The Daily Tuesday of a story indicating the possibility of a large industry being obtained for Albany-Decatur attracted much attention and many citizens today expressed determination to lend every effort necessary to land one or both of the projects now being negotiated for.

Two Marines Are Killed In A Clash
Of Their Airplane

(Associated Press)

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 14.—Two men were killed in an airplane clash near King and Queen courthouses today. The victims were Sergeant Neal W. Abbott, of Rochester, N. Y., and Clarence W. Mix, of Durand, Mich., attached to the marine base at Quantico, Va.

HOSPITAL PLANS ARE IN MAKINGSome Days Before The Contractor Will Be Made Known

Two trips already have been made here by architects in connection with the construction of additional wings at the Benevolent hospital, it was stated today, and further plans will be submitted, possibly within the next three weeks, before bids can be advertised for. It was estimated at from 45 to 60 days before the contract for the building can be given.

Thomas A. Bowles, treasurer, declared today that the committee is working as fast as possible to get things in readiness for letting contract and that the people will see the first results for their generous contributions within the near future.

Mr. Bowles declared that the committee has taken subscriptions to the hospital in good faith and that the committee is carrying forward in all necessary details, in faith and belief that every obligation made by local people will be fulfilled.

Rudd Has No Clue
Of Stolen Motor

S. E. Rudd, editor of the Moulton Advertiser, is still without clue as to the identity of persons who are alleged to have stolen his car on Saturday, on Second Avenue, Albany. It is stated that Mr. Rudd left his car parked in front of Sibley & Sandlin, local hardware firm, and returned later to find the car gone. Moulton citizens provided means for transportation to Moulton.

Meters Tested
All Over Cities

All gas meters of Albany-Decatur patrons are being tested by the Alabama Power company. Garner Pride, manager of the local operations of the company, stated that the work of inspection is nearly completed.

Consumption of Cotton Is High

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Cotton consumed during March totaled 634,593 bales of lint and 60,532 of lintless compared with 567,244 of lint and 63,978 of lintless in February, this year, and 583,407 of lint and 58,821 of lintless in March, last year, the census bureau announced today.

STATE DEPARTMENT
COMPLETING PLANS FOR CONSTRUCTIONHighway Officials To Build For Future In This SectionWORD AWAITED
FROM CAPITALWork To Cost Several Hundred Thousand,
It Is Believed

Bids for the construction of the approaches and bridge across the tip of Beaver lake to connect the Bee Line highway with the new highway bridge across the Tennessee river here probably will be asked within the next few weeks.

Word is expected from Montgomery regarding this feature within a few days, it was stated today.

The exact program of the Alabama highway department is not definitely known here, but it is understood that the bids to be asked call for the construction, on the Limestone side of the river, of a highway to meet the northern abutment of the bridge; the construction of a fill and road from this point to the intersection of the Bee Line highway, and a concrete bridge across that part of Beaver lake which skirts the highway.

The highway department, it is understood is looking to the future in its present construction program here, and that ample provision will be made to prevent the high waters which occasionally back up through this area from ever interfering with free passage over the highway.

The Bee Line highway, at present, barely skirts the edge of the lake, but when the lake is up, traffic sometimes is negotiated with difficulty through the so-called "river bottom" area.

Total cost of the work, of course is not known, but it is believed here the construction will cost several hundred thousand dollars.

VEHICLE LICENSE
SHOW AN INCREASEState Inspector Sees Good Condition In Two Counties

Morgan and Cullman counties have paid motor licenses promptly this year, according to H. R. Sumner, state license inspector. Increases in the number of licenses have been heavy in both counties since 1922, reports reveal.

Mr. Sumner declared today that before the year is out that 4,000 licenses will have been paid in Morgan and approximately 3,000 in Cullman. At this time 3,500 have been paid in Morgan and between 2,600 and 2,700 in Cullman.

The inspector believed that people have learned that there is no way to get away from paying license on vehicles through the enactment of law in 1922. At this time, however, he believed that conditions in his particular line have never been better.

Kyle Sees Boom
Among Farmers

John T. Kyle, Hartselle, declared today that he is of the opinion that this year will be the greatest agricultural year in the history of Morgan County. Mr. Kyle stated that farmers are buying greater supplies of fertilizers this year than ever before. Mr. Kyle saw a slight tendency among the farmers toward getting away

12 Years Ago From the Daily of TODAY

Apr. 14, 1914

The dainties exposed in the display cases of the Twin City Bread Co., are indeed a revelation in the line of bakery products in the Decatur.

Buttrey's Clean-up Sale of women's dresses and suits begins tomorrow.

Mesdames Seneca Burr and R. O. Darwin are spending the day in Birmingham.

Mrs. E. E. Johnson and Jessie Odum, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Brock, leave Sunday for their home at Morgantown, Ky.

A day without its unusual and sensational death is no day at all.

More than thirty miles of paved streets in Albany-Decatur certainly is something to brag about.

The "I told you so's" came very near the peak of their career when Mussolini was wounded. At any rate his death will not be unexpected.

Watch for the poll list. If your name isn't included and you have qualified then let the probate judge know all about it.

Looking backward cost Lot's wife her life—cities far backward lose the very essence of city life, civic existence.

There are two kinds of law enforcement, one the just and equitable, the other a persecution. The persecution is no better than a non-enforcement for it rouses in the breast of man a fire of hatred not easily extinguished.

Had you the versatility of a Chaplin, leading the "gold rush," the courage of a Mussolini in defending an assailant against a mob, you could expend neither force in no better way than in service to others, Christian service to your fellowman.

On April 10, the Nashville Banner modestly observed its fifty-first birthday. The Daily extends its congratulations to The Banner and to its veteran publisher, Major Stahlman, who time and time again has given evidence of his friendship for the Tennessee Valley.

If Albany-Decatur are in earnest about desiring to leap into the major city class, the opportunity seems to be present. It should be the civic duty of every resident to consider earnestly the possibilities now confronting us to obtain one or two big industries. To get these plants will require work and money. Both should be made available and that without delay.

COLLEGE EDUCATION AS ESSENTIAL OR A NON-ESSENTIAL?

What good is a college education? That confronts every parent who is about to shed the last tear on the cheek of a manly son, or upon the latest style in barbers skill upon the head of a daughter. Higher educational authorities say send them to college. Arthur Brisbane, always in a class to himself, says the son comes out of college four years behind the procession—he finds that instead of the hare he must assume the role of the tortoise. The fact remains, however, that the real problem is with the boy or girl. He or she can make the college education a benefit or a hindrance. Choosing the college is not near so important as choosing the boy or girl it is safe to take away from the environment of home. Some succeed, others are just too young to stand alone. Father and mother must solve that question.

PUT IT IN CONCRETE FORM. THEN CALL UPON THE PEOPLE

Back in 1920, Albany-Decatur had a population a little above 13,000. Today there is no census prepared, but there is one thing assured. The folks living here have gained five years of love for their cities, five more years of experience in the wealth brought through civic pride, still greater hopes for the future and a spirit that will not be slackened once a concrete proposal is put before the public as a whole. If Albany-Decatur is placed in the balance and asked to raise a huge sum of money for the locating here of an industry, the Daily does not feel that there will be any shortage at the end of the campaign. Our folks are not short in such matters, they never have been and they are perhaps more prosperous today than they ever have been at any previous period. When the real article is presented Albany-Decatur will come forth with all the needed financing and backing.

SENATE INVESTIGATION WILL SERVE TO ENTANGLE PUBLIC

This investigation the Senate is now conducting of prohibition conditions is to serve no purpose other than to entangle the brain machinery of the general public. The "wets" are overboard one day with an argument as long as the moral code, in favor of modification. The "drys" come along the next day with their arguments, just as tedious and unconvincing. The entire matter should be taken out of Senate halls, the controversy is going to resolve itself into a debate, the action will tend there. The people of the United States do not desire that any action be taken for the modification of the Volstead act and therefore are disgusted with the action of the Senate. We need no modification, what we do need is enforcement of the present law in an equitable manner. Liquor issues died with the passage of the Eighteenth Amendment, it is the wish of the American public that it remain buried in the ash heap of yesterday.

SALESMAN'S TALK IS TRUE OF ALL LOCAL PRODUCTS

Fred Nebri, traveling for the Dixie Manufacturing company, declared upon his return here that other points are buying the products of the local company which compare in quality and value of workmanship with the best manufactured in the country. The same is true of other lines manufactured in our cities. Our brick plants are selling over the entire South, box and basket products go into the north and east, Iron-Clad hosiery is known the nation over, Y. & S. Piston rings are gradually gaining power in the market, our brooms are by no means consumed altogether at home, inquiries from over the world ask of Decatur Cornice products, our railway shops help keep one of the greatest transportation systems in the land going, Albany-Decatur manufactured silk goes over the face of the globe. Is there any wonder that the nation turns its eyes to the Tennessee Valley and Albany-Decatur when there is thought of locating an industry. If you believe that living in an average sized city will make you provincial in mind just consider what we have here at home and rid yourself of false impressions.

MUSIC STUDY CONVENTION IS IN SESSION AT SELMA

The Federated Music Study clubs of the state of Alabama today convened at Selma, Ala., to continue through Friday this week. Albany-Decatur was represented with both junior and senior organizations. It is constructive to send delegates to such a gathering. There they may give their ideas to others in the state and in return learn new plans for increasing the sphere and the influence of music. Music is one of the greatest forces in the world. During war periods bands play constantly, accompanied with the usual gold braid. Men join the army as a result, it's the music that gets in the blood. Music is a force of the church, good religious singing places the mind of the congregation in tune with the religious message that the pastor is about to deliver. Mothers croon to children, busy men often sing at their work, college and high school teams seem to respond when school battle hymns are sung or played, it's the music. If these representatives return to Albany-Decatur with new ideas they will find the people even more ready to respond, people enjoy music, it buoys up the soul.

LOYALTY A BIG THING IN THE EMPLOYMENT OF MEN

When there is need for employing men it is the usual thing to look at his record from the standpoint of the service he has rendered in his former position. Loyalty can be determined to some extent, but the loyalty of a workman depends chiefly upon the man for whom he is working. Men who have been associated with an employer over a long period of time usually have loyalty added to their credit whenever reference is needed. Loyalty is perhaps a greater item in the steady employment of a man than any other phase of his activity. A loyal worker can be kept a loyal worker with the proper kind of treatment. When an employer's men work overtime, he is indeed a small employer if he looks at the large sum that is chalked up for overtime work. He should rather look into the spirit of his workmen, what sort of workmen are they? Are they willing, are they glad that work is heavier so that their employer might benefit with them? Loyalty is a vast force. Just the other day the writer looked into such a case, a man who was badly injured refused to take the advice of his physicians and go home. Was he looking at the deficit that would have appeared in his pay check? Hardly, he rather considered his work as an ideal and chose to continue at his place, performing his duties to the mutual benefit of his employer and himself. There are thousands of others who throw down the hammer at the slightest pretext and if it can be avoided, it is best that such men are not engaged in business, regardless of their skill.

SPRING ADVERTISING OPENS IN REAL EARNST

Today The Daily is a little larger than usual, of course about the size we should like to see it all the time, but that size is still in the future, though some day it will become a reality. Look at the paper, what is the cause? The merchants of your cities are busy with their spring advertising programs, they are giving you an opportunity to fill your present needs and take care of a great many for the future. They have chosen The Daily as a medium to tell you about it, they know you are a steady reader of this newspaper and they are paying their way to get your attention centered on the trading facilities of your own cities.

Take a close look into all the pages of The Daily today, see what your friends, the merchants have to offer you, see what friends have gone out of the city, see what's happening in the nation and what is going on in your own city. It is but a day in the history of the newspaper, the chronicling of clean events in the history of the day, the test a merchant offers to see if you really want all these things you have been talking of buying. Read the whole paper today, it took lots of work and sweat to get it to your front door.

INDEPENDENT LAYS THE CRIME WAVE TO A FOREIGN DOOR

The Dearborn Independent which sometimes sparkles with splendid ideas and again speaks with a radical tongue, declares that the crime wave is essentially not American. It points to the personnel of the Whittmore gang, New York gang of thugs, gunmen, highwaymen and whatnot, recently partially rounded up. The Independent finds that in this case the ratio is five to one, five foreigners to one American. It surmises that as soon as the entire gang is brought into the reach of the law that a still greater ratio will be found to exist. The periodical then takes occasion to prod the New York Times in saying that the American predominates in crime.

However, no matter what the origin of these criminals, the problem remains essentially American. So, then it is not a problem of the European or Asiatic countries what condition America is in today, it is the problem of America. America must solve the crime wave. It makes little difference if the whole of the crime family belongs to another race. They are within American borders and that means something to every American home. When a citizen must protect himself the greater part of the time with a dangerous weapon, then there is something radically wrong and there is no time to be wasted in determining the origin, study of extermination methods are much better.

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

of the United States is not to know your country. This way to the Pacific just a short trip, take New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, the District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, California.

EACH of those states has land energy, fertility and opportunity enough for a great empire. In Texas alone you could pack away several important European nations, and in that one state you could raise food for all people living on earth and five hundred millions more.

Haven't we enough to attend to in this American league of nations from the Atlantic to the Pacific, without going to Europe for trouble?

THIS train is flying through North Carolina, most beautiful land, like all this southern country the bright red earth is covered with green trees in blossom. Little Kannapolis, as you flash through, shows every sign of a real estate boom. A thousand such booms are on either side of the track from New York all the way to Seattle. Have we prosperity? We have tens of thousands of acres, terraced to prevent erosion, are all ready for the cotton that will clothe the world, and stretched out mile after mile across the country you see metal spider webs, mounted on steel stilts, power lines that carry energy to mills, innumerable, enormous, completely modern, that mean work and prosperity for every town and city. The south no longer manufactures cotton to provide labor and profit for the mills in the North. It grows the cotton, makes the cotton cloth ships the finished product and keeps the money here.

NORTHERNERS know their old cold corner of the earth, and perhaps a little about California and Florida, thanks to advertising. They do not know that all this southern country is most beautiful, climate mild, soil fertile, people hospitable, homes and opportunity is here for 115,000,000 more Americans. Here is no monotony, valleys, hills, forest, fly past and everywhere in the distance, you see blue mountains, waiting for perfected flying machines to bring population to their summits.

THE southern slaves are now machines of steel, iron, brass and the wealth that they produce is by billions of dollars beyond the dreams of old slave days.

Greatest of all the factories is one now building, at Duke, named in honor of the late tobacco king.

His energetic soul has gone up to its reward. Hundreds of millions worth of tobacco that he distributed has gone up in smoke, but the money remains here, in the state where his fortune began and is devoted to education for men and women.

AT DUKE'S great plant for fighting ignorance, the quadrangle now building the "co-ordinate college, for women" is a delight to those who believe in civilization and equality.

Four million dollars will be spent on that one triangle of which the first buildings will be ready in September.

Workmen in a New England marble quarry are getting out in the "trim" the marble needed. The university's own stone quarry supplies the intellect of past and present will supply knowledge for this center of learning.

REAL SPRING, almost summer is here, boys flying their kites, swimming in the creeks, gardens planted and doing well. "Innumerable, automobiles fly along a perfect concrete road, parallel with the track; some race with the engine for a while.

New houses are building everywhere. Thousands are finished and occupied all along the highways. As you enter South Carolina, you see at Greenville, a gigantic white sky scraper that would do credit to Park Row or Michigan avenue. But the important thing is the energy, the drive, the boom, everywhere, the new mills with huge smokestacks, thousands of new comfortable houses.

THE North bids for and gets much of the South's labor, more than 150,000 colored men and women from the South now live in New York City alone.

Competition for labor must continue, while our ports are closed to

INTEREST CONTINUES HIGH IN REVIVAL AT CENTRAL BAPTIST

The Central Baptist church again was filled last night, interest in the revival series continuing high. Rev. E. B. Farrer, evangelist is preaching the old time gospel.

The song services are being led by Jack Scholfield, of Fort Scott, well known composer of gospel hymns, and the musical programs are features of all of the services.

Last night Rev. Farrer's subject

Miss Jewell Comes Here April 25th

Miss Winona R. Jewell, of Denver, Colorado Field secretary Young People's Branch of National Woman's Christian Temperance Union will visit the Twin Cities on April 25th. Mr. C. W. Black, State Corresponding secretary of the Alabama W. C. T. U. in speaking of Miss Jewell said "We are indeed fortunate in securing Miss Jewell to do some special work in the state for she is a fine and convincing speaker and leaves a deep impression on the minds of those who hear her."

Dunaway Talks of Road Conditions

A. M. Dunaway, serving on the board of commissioners, Morgan county, today reviewed briefly road conditions now prevailing in this county. Mr. Dunaway saw an improvement in road conditions of 500 per cent over conditions of ten years ago. He declared that he and the board were mindful of the needs of the county at this time, in the matter of added road facilities, and expressed the desire of the board to serve the people of the county in the best possible way. Mr. Dunaway said he believed the Cullman highway, from Hartselle to Cullman, was the best highway he had ever seen.

immigration, including immigrants that the country needs.

That policy will not last and meanwhile it has its good results. It puts up wages and the higher they go the better. The rich man can only get his share of what the poor man earns and incidentally all the poor man can get is his share of what he and other workers produce.

LOAFING always comes out of the poor man's pocket. High wages cause the prosperous to use their brains, and encourage the brains of others to find substitutes for human hands, better machines for human minds to direct: that is good for everybody. C. M. Schwab, or Judge Gary. Put a million into more modern machinery, doing away with 900 out of 1,000 men. Each of the remaining 900 men can earn twice what each of the thousand got and ought to earn it! The other 900 can all find jobs. See America. It's worth it.

was "The Power and Joy of Prayer." He emphasized the fact that no Christian can live without praying.

To be a soul winner, he declared, it is necessary for Christians to have the power of prayer and to know that he has accepted Christ as his Savior. "If you live on Doubting Avenue," the preacher exclaimed, "it is essential that you move to Assurance Street."

Christian people were urged to pray and work for the unsaved, but to do this, the speaker reminded his hearers, "you must know that you have accepted Christ."

The series already has proved very fruitful and a number have joined the church by letter and by baptism. Leaders of the movement today urged every member of Central Baptist to do his and her duty.

Prayer meetings will be held nightly at 7:15 o'clock the song and preaching service beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Morning services begin at 9:30 o'clock and the shop services each day at noon.

KIWANIS TO MEET

The trip to Danville, planned by the Farm Relations Committee for Friday night, will have no hearing on the regular weekly meeting of the Albany-Decatur Kiwanis club, it was stated today. The regular weekly meeting will be held at the Y. M. C. A. at the noon hour, Thursday.

ANNUAL BANQUET OF W. M. S. OF CENTRAL BAPTIST CHURCH

The annual gathering of the women of the Central Baptist church to celebrate their anniversary was held on Tuesday at the Y. M. C. A. This is the thirty-fourth anniversary. The hall was tastefully decorated with the society colors, lavender and white, carried out with the use of Jackson vines and lilacs while at each place at the table dainty corsages of violets further emphasized the color motif which was also used in the two course luncheon served at the noon hour.

Mrs. C. E. Malone presided. Between courses Mrs. Ernest Walker gave an enjoyable reading. After the luncheon the treasurer, Mrs. H. S. Roberts and the secretary, Mrs. A. L. Frazier gave interesting reports on the year's work as compared with the previous year. An inspirational talk was given by Mrs. R. E. Wardlow, the personal service chairman.

Election of officers was conducted at this time resulting in the re-election of the officers as follows: president, Mrs. W. H. Simpson; vice president, Mrs. C. T. Sewell; treasurer, Mrs. H. S. Roberts; secretary, Mrs. A. L. Frazier, Mrs. R. B. Perkins rendered a beautiful spring song accompanied by Mrs. Seneca Burr, who later read an original poem in which she honored members who had passed on and also charter members. The important feature of the afternoon's program was the round table discussion on "The Woman's part in the building program of the church" capably led by Mrs. J. H. Green. Those responding were Mrs. B. L. Malone, "Building the Spiritual Temple, the first requisite," Mrs. J. F. Smithers, "Building our constituency," Mrs. C. E. Malone, "Building through the development of workers," Mrs. E. T. Cunningham "Building through difficulties," Mrs. E. M. Lee, "Building Through Prayer," Mrs. Carl Jones "Building through co-operation," Mrs. C. T. Sewell "Through Sacrificial giving," Mrs. O. R. Johnson "Joyous Enthusiasm in Building," Mrs. W. H. Simpson, "Making a Pledge."

Mrs. H. S. Roberts paid a glowing tribute to Mrs. W. H. Simpson, the president, telling of the love and appreciation held for her by her co-workers. Complimentary remarks in an original poem were made by Mrs. W. H. Thompson to the other officials of the society, who have served so faithfully and untiringly. Mrs. Simpson answered with a splendid talk expressing her appreciation for the wonderful co-operation accorded her.

Each one present told in a few words what the year's work had meant to her after which the meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

MRS. DAVIS HOSTESS

The Tuesday Afternoon Bridge Club members were the guests this week of Mrs. Henry Davis at her home on Johnston street.

At the club game, Mrs. W. E. Crawford, won the prize after which delicious refreshments consisting of an ice, sandwiches and nuts were passed.

"The Revealing Romance of a flapper's adventures on life's highway"

Miss Nobody

Published by arrangement with First National Pictures Inc.

"And you suppose right," said Bravo. "If the fools had any brains they would have discovered that long ago. And let me warn you, my young romantic friend, not to be a feminist in pants. Some day you will find yourself paying off the taxi driver while the guy who chucked her under the chin is kissing the girl good-night."

"You, no doubt," jeered Barbara, "are a chin chucker."

"I am," grandly corrected Bravo, "a cigar smoker."

"Not," he added, "that I can't do my chucking on occasion—when the chin is dimpled—or the tobacco is dry."

Barbara closed her ears and, dejected, let the monologist talk on. A dozen times in the course of the dinner she had forcibly established conversational subjects remote from topic A. But the ladies had come back like lost cats.

She toyed disconsolately with the twin to Bravo's cigar and blew a martyr's mouthful. She grew aware of a hiatus in the monologue. She looked up to find Bravo's eyes absent and followed his gaze.

A woman was dining alone at a nearby table. She smiled over a coffee cup. And the smile was an enigmatic invitation.

"With R. S. V. I. in her eyes," thought Barbara. Grudgingly she admitted that the woman was passable.

"With R. S. V. I. in her eyes," thought Barbara. Grudgingly she admitted that the woman was passable.

Barbara closed her ears and, dejected, let the monologist talk on. A dozen times in the course of the dinner she had forcibly established conversational subjects remote from topic A. But the ladies had come back like lost cats.

She toyed disconsolately with the twin to Bravo's cigar and blew a martyr's mouthful. She grew aware of a hiatus in the monologue. She looked up to find Bravo's eyes absent and followed his gaze.

A woman was dining alone at a nearby table. She smiled over a coffee cup. And the smile was an enigmatic invitation.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

State of Alabama
Morgan County,

WHEREAS, on the 21st day of July, 1924, George C. Clark and wife, Bertha O. Clark, did make, execute and deliver to the undersigned a certain mortgage on the hereinafter described property to secure an indebtedness of the said George C. Clark to the undersigned, which mortgage is on file and of record in the office of the Probate Judge of Morgan County, Alabama, in Volume 319, page 69; and,

WHEREAS, in and by the terms of said mortgage it is stipulated among other things that should the said mortgagors fail to comply with any one or more of the covenants, terms and conditions therein contained, among which was an agreement and covenant to pay to the undersigned a certain amount of dues, premium and interest, per month, that the undersigned was thereby authorized to sell said property described in the mortgage to the highest bidder for cash in front of the Court House door, Morgan County, Alabama, and to execute title to the purchaser, after publication and notice thereof for ten (10) days either by posting or by one or more publications in a newspaper published in Morgan County, Alabama, said mortgage giving the undersigned the right to purchase at said sale as if a stranger to said instrument; and

WHEREAS, the said mortgagors have failed to comply with said covenants, terms, conditions and agreements, and have made default in the payment of dues, interest, and the premium and interest secured by the mortgage is past due and in default; NOW, therefore, under and by virtue of the authority contained in said mortgage, the undersigned will, on the 26th day of April, 1926, within the legal hours of sale, offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash in front of the Court house door, Decatur, Alabama, for the purpose of satisfying the indebtedness evidenced by said mortgage, and the interest thereon, and all costs and expenses thereof, the following described property, to-wit: Lot 17 in Block 13, Addition 4 of the Decatur Land, Improvement and Furnace Company to Decatur, Alabama, as shown by map or plat of said Addition on file in the office of the Probate Judge of Morgan County, Alabama, together with all tenements hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in anywise appertaining.

Why
Leaders of American Business and Finance

Find
Inspiration
Clear
Thinking and sound
Americanism

in
ARTHUR BRISBANE'S
famous daily editorial
"TODAY"

MEN AT THE HEAD of large affairs everywhere recognize day after day in Arthur Brisbane's forceful editorial utterances the reflection of experience gained at first hand in the realms of business and investment. Among the leaders of industry and finance who follow "TODAY" in more than one hundred newspapers are the men most aware of its author's great range of investment interests. This setting to work by Arthur Brisbane of the surplus of his large earnings in American enterprises and future, is only one expression of his faith in the ideals and institutions which make America the outstanding nation of the world. Its fullest expression is made in his brilliant and many-sided "TODAY," which appears daily in this newspaper. Leaders enjoy and profit by this famous column, because it is a sure guide to a sound knowledge of America and a constant inspiration to the highest duties of citizenship.

FORD

"Everybody ought to read Arthur Brisbane's 'TODAY'."

Everybody ought to read Arthur Brisbane's "To-day" column. He is a great writer, and with a news-gathering organization to supply him with material, he writes what I like to read.
HENRY FORD

SCHWAB

"We need more Brisbanes"

The breadth of imagination shown in his daily comment opens windows on the current parade of events which would pass unnoticed without his unique, human viewpoint.

Many, who may not agree with all of Arthur Brisbane's conclusions, read his daily column for the mental stimulus which comes from association with an active mind whose words seldom fail to leave a picture in the memory of the reader.

We need more Brisbanes, more men with the ability to see new thoughts in daily routine and old lessons in timely events.

C. M. SCHWAB

ROCKEFELLER

"TODAY" is one of the really unique features of American journalism."

I take great pleasure in saying that I regard Mr. Brisbane as one of the most brilliant of American journalists, and that, while, perhaps, I cannot agree with him in all his views, I feel that his purpose is constructive, his writings are always most interesting and suggestive, and his column "Today" is one of the really unique features of American journalism.

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR.

"One of the important figures in this democratic form of government of ours."

The editor of a great daily paper exercises a tremendous influence, which carries with it commensurate responsibilities in helping to form an intelligent public opinion regarding the issues of the day. Mr. Brisbane's extraordinary facility for presenting even the most complicated subject in language that is clear and easily understood makes him one of the important figures in this democratic form of government of ours.

A. W. MELLON

"This instructive, fascinating column is a force and influence that is far-reaching"

I read regularly and with increasing interest Arthur Brisbane's column entitled "TODAY." It contains a clear, comprehensive and condensed statement of current events. It briefly analyzes the daily discussions relating to the principal topics under consideration. It provides a fund of information, useful and valuable for every department of American life. It expresses opinions of the editor concerning religion, finance, commerce, education and politics, that are based on good authority or sound logic, or both, which are of decided advantage to every one interested in any of these topics.

Mr. Brisbane is or has been an omnivorous reader, probably both. He has a large, well-balanced brain that seems to be at work at least twelve or fifteen hours per day. This instructive, fascinating column is a force and influence that is far-reaching. It is not difficult to understand why Mr. Brisbane is the largest salaried man in the newspaper world.

HENDERSON DEFENDS AGAINST CHARGES HURLED AT PAPERS

Refutes Charge That Newspapers Are "Crime Scavengers," Showing That 86 Percent News Is Good.

(Associated Press.)
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 14—In refutation of the charge that the modern newspaper is a "crime scavenger," E. M. Henderson, of the staff of the Associated Press, declared that less than one per cent of news in the average newspaper dealt with crime, while 86 per cent of the average news text was of a strictly constructive nature.

Mr. Henderson was addressing the quadrennial convention of the International Council of Religious Education. He spoke on the subject, "Clean News."

Primarily in his address the speaker defended publication of so-called crime news, properly written, as a necessary element in the betterment of society. It was his opinion that psychologists would never make editors.

The news of the day is a reproduction of a picture of life," he declared.

"There can be to the standard American newspaper but one modification or qualification to the picture, highlights and shadows which violate good taste and are repugnant to the senses of a civilized people, may be touched by the artist's brush. The retouching process means simply this: the telling of the story in language that portrays the whole truth without injury to the delicate fiber of the most extracting or sensitive reader. The story in point might be seamy, sordid tragedy. A suicide, mayhap. The public is entitled to the truth. Four things must be told about the person involved; who, when, where, why? Society is made up of individuals. One of society's number, in a fit of mental aberration leaves this mortal sphere. Are not the other members of society entitled to learn what is wrong with itself? Cover it up, then what? Society goes on in society's smug complacency and the very fundamental error which caused that one death might be the source of a revolution.

"But you argue: What about the psychology of the thing? Will not these things run in cycles? I answer emphatically, No. There is no season for suicide or murder or arson or theft or any of the other crimes, except violation of the prohibition law and that crime has all seasons for its very own."

The speaker declared that the orthodox contention of the psychologist concerning power of suggestion was disproved in the very fact that even so-called "suicide epidemics" were limited. Even though newspaper stories grow with the number of suicides in a so-called cycle, there is always a halt he pointed out.

In his opening remarks Mr. Henderson analyzed clean newspaper matter as "that which does not contain misinformation, censored matter or denatured statements. Clean news is that which is not 'policy' matter; that which contains no fakery or bias clean news is exactly what it purports to be; not a medicine "reader" nor an advertisement disguise. Clean news is not prejudicial statement or one-sided viewpoint; it does not reek of the "illth of the street or the skum of the alley; it is always fair. Clean news is unvarnished truth, properly told."

The speaker laid particular emphasis to the declarat on that crime news was "clean" news when properly presented. To sustain this he compared the crime news and tragedy of the modern newspaper with the literature of all ages, hat literature found in the home, the church and the school. "And 60 per cent of everything embraced in our best literature, the classics, deals in tragedy and human weakness," he declared.

"The remaining 40 per cent speaks gloriously of the magnificence of Virtue's reward. Would virtue be accentuated without the contrasting ills of humankind?"

In further discussion from this angle he drew a parallel with the Bible, stating that "it is the fullest portrayal of life ever penned. Nothing is omitted in the Bible; nothing is censored; there's no denaturing. Follow the Children of Israel. If you read in your newspaper some of the things about folks now that is recorded about that family, you would toss up your hands in horror, judging by comment thoughtlessly made in criticism of the standard American newspaper today. Per hundred columns of type or pounds of newspaper, the Bible and other classics are decidedly more to crime and tragedy than your daily paper."

Unclean news was described by the speaker as that which tells half the truth or no truth at all. "To add or to take from any given set of facts, makes news unclean," he said. "To print any statement aside from ethical rule to create a certain effect, is to disseminate unclean news. To print half the facts is a deception. The publication of biased, one-sided matter constitutes journalistic felony. Any news that bears anonymous opinion by the writer is unclean."

The speaker declared that, in connection with the accusation that newspapers were publishing fallacies, it was easier to state facts than to present mis-statement and that the publisher of distorted stories could not long remain unspotted. He said it was good business to tell the truth properly.

The publisher who poisons or adulterates his product comes to the same end as the druggist who uses substitute drugs in filling a doctor's prescription," he declared.

"There is no escape. The law of compensation is irrevocable. The newspaper which, by its shoddy efforts, panders to perverted news appetite will, in time, find itself caught in the vortex of revulsion.

"Accuracy properly presented is the foundation of the profession. And accurate news, properly presented, is clean news always. There is nothing higher than truth and society is never bettered by being kept in ignorance of its own weaknesses."

Mr. Henderson cited dispatches of The Associated Press as a general example of clean news. The organization by its very nature, he said, couched accurate, fair and proper presentation of the news of the day.

"May I tell you," he continued, "that I deem it a great honor and the highest privilege of my professional life to be a member of the staff of The Associated Press?"

"The Associated Press is a union of about 1,300 leading daily papers, having for its sole purpose the collection and distribution of the important news of the world. It is a purely co-operative body without capital stock. It makes no profits and declares no dividends. Each member pays his pro rata of the cost.

"This service, the greatest clearing house in the world for news, includes in its membership newspapers of every conceivable political, economic and religious advocacy. But its membership is united upon one question, that thing about which we have been talking, clean news. Its dispatches do not interpret, analyze or criticize and are wholly free from partisan tone. The service reports the facts without bias. It is the theory of the organization that, in a self governing country like ours, the people if given the facts must be able to form their own opinion respecting them.

"And so believe the standard American newspaper with reference to its news matter. The newspaper is the forum of the American people; the only medium that can be so classed with any degree of universality. News is written for all races; for person whose political and social habits are as diametrically opposed as the poles for readers whose traditions and thinking processes are as widely dissimilar as the surface of the earth in the various sections of the country in which they live."

In conclusion, the speaker emphasized the necessity for simplicity of language in "clean" news. "There is nothing to be despised about making intelligence intelligible," he said. "Culture does not speak an unknown tongue and there is no reason why accuracy should be unreadable. To make things intelligible to the average man or even the man in the street does not mean descending to him; it means becoming a real writer. Beauty knows no private language. Simplicity and clearness based on absolute accuracy will meet the challenge of the critic who would have you believe that news at its best is a cheap and shoddy product in the world of letters. The newspaper reporter, in the standard American newspaper, brings to you the poet's beauty, the scientist's accuracy and the scholar's culture. His product is clean news."

IF THE STOCK
HOLDS OUT.

"DO NOT want to be thin! I just want to be my right weight! I want these hollows filled out. I just want enough firm, plump flesh on my bones to fill out my figure."

Of course you do. You want a figure that you can drape your clothes on—not just hang them on! What's the use of having pretty clothes, if they just hang on you?

And what would you say if you were told you could have the figure you want? A graceful, well rounded body—firm, solid flesh—just enough—just your right weight? You'd be mighty happy, wouldn't you?

Well, then, be happy—because you can have it! Put plenty of red cells in your blood and watch your weight go up to where you want it! That's what the matter with you! Your blood is impoverished. You need more rich, red blood. S. S. S. is the thing to put red blood in your system. S. S. S. helps Nature build red blood cells by the millions.

You just try S. S. S. and watch how quickly you begin to fill out your clothes. Notice your skin clear of unsightly blemishes—your eyes brighten—your strength comes to flabby muscles—and vim and vigor fill your whole system. It's red blood that does it. And S. S. S. surely helps Nature build that red blood.

S. S. S. is sold by all drug stores. The larger bottle is more economical.
